

Week Three Report

This week you have been working as a scientist. Think and write about some things you did this week.

How does that compare to what you normally do in science?

Write and draw about what you did.